

The Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington invites applications for postdoctoral fellowships.

The Geophysical Laboratory is a private research and educational institution emphasizing interdisciplinary research in fundamental chemistry and physics related to geology, planetology, astrochemistry and astrobiology. The Geophysical Laboratory supports world-class staff and research facilities in high-pressure physics and chemistry, organic and bio-geochemistry, mineral physics and petrology. Applications should include a curriculum vitae, description of thesis research, a list of publications, transcript/grade report, a two- to three-page research proposal for the fellowship period, and three letters of recommendation to be sent directly to us by those familiar with your work. Completed applications for fellowships beginning on or after July 1, 2007, should be submitted by December 31, 2006 (see <http://www.gl.ciw.edu/employment/postdoc1.php>). Applications and requests for additional information should be mailed to:

Dr. Wesley T. Huntress, Jr., Director

Geophysical Laboratory

Carnegie Institution of Washington

5251 Broad Branch Road

Washington, DC 20015, USA

or sent by email to w.huntress@gl.ciw.edu. Microsoft Word documents can be included as attachments. Supporting documents such as transcripts or reference letters must be sent by regular mail rather than email.

The Geophysical Laboratory is an equal opportunity employer.